

Privacy Policy for Text Message Communication

Last Updated: September 5, 2023

This User Consent Policy for Sending Text Messages ("Policy") outlines the terms and conditions governing your consent to receive text messages from Five Rivers Cattle Feeding, LLC. By providing your consent to receive text messages, you acknowledge and agree to abide by the terms outlined in this Policy. By providing your phone number, you grant us permission to send text messages to the provided phone number for various purposes, including but not limited to customer support and service-related messages.

We will strive to limit the number of text messages you receive to a reasonable frequency. Message frequency may vary depending on the nature of the communication, but we will make every effort to ensure that you are not inundated with messages.

You have the right to opt out of receiving text messages from us at any time. To do so, please follow the instructions provided in the text message or contact our customer support team. We respect your privacy and will use your phone number solely for the purpose of sending text messages as outlined in this Policy. We will not share your phone number with third parties for marketing purposes without your explicit consent.

Message and data rates may apply depending on your mobile service provider and plan. We are not responsible for any charges you may incur while receiving text messages from us. We reserve the right to make changes to this Policy at any time. If we make material changes to this Policy, we will notify you by sending a text message or updating the effective date at the top of this Policy.
